

You and me

The sun is going down
The sky is coloured red
And I am sitting there alone, lost in thoughts
And remembering a time when it seemed so perfectly
For you and me

And I can feel the breeze
Of the warm summer air
It's like the touch of your hand, soft and mild
It was so great to have one another constantly
For you and me

Take me in your arms
Let me feel your love again
Take me in your arms
All the years cannot be in vain, for you and me.. you and me

I turn around and see
The bench under the tree
Where I kissed you the first time, it was dawn
And we opened our hearts to let all butterflies free in you and me

And I go back inside
This place where I can hide
From myself and the rest, of the world
And I know as it was it surely won't be
For you and me

Take me in your arms
Let me feel your love again
Take me in your arms
All the years cannot be in vain, for you and me.. you and me
